

THE WATERWORKS.

Getting Down to Business in the Matter and Work Begins.

The City Council Met This Morning To Consider Proposition of Contractor Jones' Attorney.

At last the long delay in the preliminary arrangements between Contractor J. A. Jones and the City Council has been ended.

Last week Mr. Jones sent here from California Mr. Pearson, an attorney, to represent him before the Council in the consideration of a slight modification of the terms of the contract. A guarantee in the sum of $30,000 was demanded by the city to insure it against suits and liens for labor performed on the works. Mr. Jones agreed to this, but when he found he could not get a gilt-edge bond in this amount without paying a premium thereon of 5 per cent, or $1000, he wrote the Council to that effect and asked to be released from this condition. The letter was published in THE SUN-DEMOCRAT in the issue of June 24.

At the meeting this morning, all the members were present; Mayor Francis presided. Attorney Pearson repeated the proposition contained in the letter. The Council answered that it must insist on the guarantee and would pay the $1000 itself but that it had not the power to do so.

Councilman D. Babbitt was given the floor and stated that he could raise the money in a couple hours by subscription. That he would do so and place the money, subject to the Council's orders, in the Arizona Central Bank.

On motion, duly seconded, the Council authorized a telegram to be sent to J. A. Jones at Oceanside, Cal., the moment the money had been deposited in the bank stating that the city had raised the $1000 for the guarantee.

Work will begin on the construction of the waterworks at once. This quick and satisfactory termination of the long delay in getting work started on the water system will be hailed with joy by the business men and real estate owners as well as every resident of the Skylight City.

A Tombstone Murder.

A man by the name of William Green killed another by the name of James Bennett in Tombstone last Thursday. It seems that Green owned a dam on the San Pedro river which was blown out recently, and the little daughter of Green was playing in the river below the dam, and during the rush of waters that followed, the two children were drowned. Green offered a reward of $1000 for information of the party who blew out his dam. Green went to town and met Bennett and killed him. It appears that the two men had not been on the best of terms for some time. The Tombstone Prospector says:

A Prospector reporter visited Green in the Sheriff's office a few minutes after the shooting and asked him if he had any statement to make. He said: "I have no statement to make other than that man was the cause of my child being drowned. I ascertained beyond the shadow of a doubt that he was the guilty man and when I thought of my little girl as she put her arms around my neck on the day she was drowned, I could think of nothing but vengeance on the man that caused her death. I have lived in this Territory twenty-five years and have always been a peaceable, law-abiding man. I held no animosity and have no regret for anything except the death of my little girl, and the little Cochran girl and the grief of my poor wife." He added, "Vengeance is mine, I will repay, saith the Lord."

The A. & P. Doctors.

The second quarterly meeting of the A. & P. Hospital Association was held at the office of Dr. D. J. Brannen here Tuesday.

The following members of the association were present:

Dr. A. R. Rhea of Daggett, Cal.; Dr. Charles Roberts, Williams; Dr. J. W. Elder, Albuquerque; Dr. A. E. Ealy, Kingman, and Dr. D. J. Brannen, Flagstaff.

After disposing of considerable business before the association, the members adjourned to partake of the hospitality of Dr. Brannen, who had prepared a banquet for his fellow medicals at the New Bank Hotel. The menu was gotten up in the most elaborate style known to the art and Mr. Tol-free fairly outdid himself in the magnificent spread. Besides the doctors at table were Mrs. P. G. Cornish and Mrs. D. J. Brannen.

The menu was as follows:

Blue Points on Half Shell.
Consomme in a cup.
Sliced Tomatoes and Cucumbers, Fried Baracouts, Piquant Sauce.
Chicken Salad with Mayonnaise.
Boiled Tongue Sauce, a la Gardiner.
Prime Loin of Beef, au jus.
Young Turkey with Currant Jelly.
Roman Punch.
New Mashed Potatoes.
Young Asparagus on Toast.
French Peas.
Blackberry and Grape Pie.
Birds' Nest Pudding.
Fruit, Mixed Nuts and Raisins.
Neapolitan Ice Cream.
Tea, Coffee, Milk and Iced Tea.

The visiting doctors returned to their homes yesterday, much pleased with their treatment while here.
